the prescribed dietary except on the recommendation of the medical officer reference to which has not been made in the present communication (Vide rules 338 & 339 of the Jail manual). Cigarettes, match boxes & betel leaves & nuts come under the category of prohibited articles, the presence of the introduction of which in the jail premises is liable to be severely visited and punished. Of the other articles, milk & sugar are not distributed to Indian convicts (as opposed to Europeans & Eurasians) except under medical advice. Plantains and biscuits do not find a place in the scale of dietary prescribed for either Europeans & Indians in any of the Jail manuals. Only in Madras plantains are allowed to Sick-Prisoners and no biscuits.

It is not clear why this Medical reference has been made by the P.G. The original reference emanated from the Secretariat and perhaps this may be transferred to the Pris: Dept: as no formal orders seem necessary.
